

Instructing the Akash

Dear beautiful Akash, which represents myself and my soul in so many expressions, in this new energy, I am in command.

Dear Akash that is my essence, and represents the expressions of thousands of lives on this planet, look at the energy of today, because I am in charge. Dear Akash, beautiful that you are because you are me, and represent the one soul that I have been for thousands of lifetimes on this earth, know this: There is change and I am going to dictate it because I am in charge.

The bottom line, I am in charge of my own life, and for the first time I want you to listen up. I command benevolence in remembrance! I command that this Akash start to alter that which has been remembered lifetime after lifetime. I hereby put a limiter on the drama. It is not allowed to invade the light of my life. I put a limitation on all the negative things, all of the lack and the poverty, all of the rejection and the abandonment, all of the fear and the pain, all of the self doubt and the lack of self love, all of the guilt and the blame and the shame and the depression, all of the anger and the betrayal and the horror. I put a limiter on all inappropriate things. Oh, these things may still be there, but they are now going to go into the dark and stay there. I command the negativity that is in my Akash and has been there: Get in the backseat, because I am driving today, and every day from this moment on! There is no longer any reason for it to show, because, you see, I am in charge of it all. It's me talking.

Dear Akash, beautiful and benevolent, you are me and I am you. Let all of the beauty, the joy, the compassion, the understanding, the prosperity, and the wisdom, which has occurred in thousands of my lifetimes, the maturity of my soul, start to present itself in ways that will surprise me with benevolence, and I'll smile. In good things, in benevolent things, in positive expectations, let my Akashic record be the best thing that ever happened to me, and let my life reflect this, and this decision, this day, at this time, in the now and forever more. I have spoken. I am in charge.

Dear cellular being that I am, I am in charge. Let all things that have occurred in my life from my birth to this very moment be on notice. Let the memory in my brain, the very synapse that holds them, be on notice. Cease and desist those things that would be below my magnificence as a creation from God on this planet. You're not allowed to keep the "tapes" playing. The "tapes" are these: The betrayal I've experienced, the sorrow, the abandonment, the lack, the unworthiness, the pain, the fear, the shame, the bad feelings, the anger, my low energy Human nature, the buzz itself. Cease and desist. I am in charge of my memory, and every single cell resounds with my Higher-Self. I am part of it in a way that I never knew before. I am in charge of all things that are me. I command this so I might go from this place and not have to carry those negative things from my own past that have occurred since my current birth on this planet.

Dear cellular structure, I'm in charge. The boss is talking. Listen up: I command you to see the beauty, the peace, the abundance, the compassion, the understanding, the joy, the benevolence, and the God inside of every cell in my body. I command you to be more resistant to disease than I have ever been before. You see, disease cannot attach itself to the light, and I hold more light than ever before. I command that all that which is in me, which is inappropriate, to go away and to change. I command that every cell in my body bring itself into alignment with my Youth Template. Let the chemistry in my body show itself in the next days so I know this is real. I take command of things that I was never told I could take command of. Dear Innate, since you are the bridge to my Akash and cellular structure and cellular being that I am, these are my instructions, thank you for assisting in implementing them now. It is so, it is so, it is so. It is settled. Thank you my beloved Innate, Beloved Akash, Beloved Higher Self, and Beloved Cellular Structure. I send you my unconditional love and gratitude always.
